Greetings Tesh,

I am writing to confirm that I won't be submitting the extra credit assignment. Despite this, I wanted to take a moment to thank you for an exceptional semester. As a junior HCI researcher, I am grateful for my foundational introduction to the class. Your feedback on my CHI submission was extraordinary, and I often refer back to the notes I took.

I hope you wouldn't mind if I keep in touch as I progress through my academic journey. I am a genuine admirer of your work and would appreciate the opportunity to reach out occasionally with questions about the field, particularly as I navigate my way as a newcomer.

Wishing you the best of luck with everything and happy holidays.

Dear Junior,

Sorry for the late reply. I got COVID. Anywho, I am much better now. Hope you are doing well!

Thanks for letting me know about the extra credit and the feedback on CHI notes.

Thanks also for your kind words. It was great to have you in the class. I always appreciated your engagement and work.

About staying in touch - absolutely. I love mentoring and would love to stay in touch. Do research projects together, maybe even publish! Feel free to reach out whenever or we could do a quarterly sync if you like. Just some options - you don't have to do any of these - no pressure.

Remind me - did you submit anything to IUI 2024 ? My paper got accepted. So, we might see each other there. Maybe even see you in person in Hawaii !?

Happy holidays and good luck!

Regards,
Tesh!

Hello Tesh,

I hope you had a great winter break and a happy new year. I am glad you were able to recover from COVID.

Yes, I would love to sync up at a cadence comfortable to both of us with the eventual goal of writing a paper. Maybe sometime in late January/early February, I can prepare some talking points/research ideas on which I can get your feedback with the aim of working towards a paper. I find your previous work on collaborative work and combating online harassment particularly appealing, so maybe there is an exciting new angle there I could look into.

No, I didn't submit to IUI, but congrats on getting your paper accepted. I will be waiting for my CHI submission results at the end of the month.

I hope your 2024 is off to a good start,
